GLLCA CONFERENCE & AGM

Members of the Great Lakes Log Crafters Association had another great annual conference April 24-25 in Watersmeet, MI, hosted by Dan and Mary Wait of Frontier Builders, Inc. One interesting talk came in virtually with a presentation by John Boys of Nicola Log Works, along with Cameron Wait of Frontier Builders Inc, on using CNC and Robotics in log and timber construction. Matt Delgado and Bed Dorn also added to report on attending the Mass Timber Conference in Portland, OR. Some tool demonstrations were brought from representatives Danny Deetz of Stihl, and Dan Davies of Milwaukee and Neu's Building Center. Other topics included engineering log spans and load calculations with Joe Miller of Fire Tower Engineered Timber; insurance for log homes with Midwest Certified Insurance Agency; home inspections with Greg Bass; improving business systems with Nate Demers of Weatherwize; Pella windows by Ben Holz; treating logs by Jesse Woods from Lake County Log & Cedar; Nate Heim of Heim Handcrafted Log Homes presented his experiences on building vacation rentals; and finally Joe Hovel, a local author, presented on land conservation and led the attendees offsite to tour Wildcat Waterfall.
